

PROGRESSIVES ORGANIZE FOR "BATTLE OF BILLS" IN STATE LEGISLATURE

PREPARE TO PUSH LEGISLATIVE FIGHT IN THE ASSEMBLY

Muster Forces for Battle on Taxation, Marketing and Farm Legislation

CLAIM LOWER HOUSE IS CONTROLLED BY STALWARTS

Steering and Marketing Committees Named by Progressives

MADISON, Wis.—A bill which undoubtedly has a local significance in La Crosse was offered by Assemblyman Frank H. Fowler, La Crosse, in the lower house Thursday. It provides that a judge shall be disqualified to sit in a case where a son or brother of the judge appears as one of the lawyers in the litigation. Such a bill has been offered in the legislature at past sessions and has always been defeated.

MADISON, Wis.—The first movement in the mastering of forces for the Wisconsin legislative battle on taxation, marketing and farm legislation, developed late Wednesday with the organization of progressive republicans.

At a secret caucus of thirty-three assemblymen of the progressive wing of the party, John L. Dahl of Barron county, was elected president of the legislative organization, and William Olson of Monroe, progressive candidate for the speakership, was chosen secretary.

Two motions were adopted providing for a committee on marketing of five members, and a steering committee for general legislation, composed of seven members. Assemblyman Olson was picked by Dahl to head the marketing committee, and Assemblyman J. C. Hanson of Dane county, to head the committee on general legislation.

Through the election of Speaker Young, the stalwarts gained control of the lower house, the progressives maintained. They declared that the important committees on judiciary, taxation and education were completely controlled by stalwarts.

The special legislative committee of the progressive organization was directed to survey all legislation, and was empowered to call a meeting of the members whenever they felt it necessary. Any taxation not placing the burden on "those best able to bear it," as stated in Governor Blaine's message, will be blocked on the floor, the progressive leaders say.

All legislation favorable to farmers and workers will be fostered by the new organization, it was said. There will be no factional lines in passing on the merit of the proposed laws, according to expression of the leaders.

Guard Governor's Veto
Another purpose of the organization was said to be to prevent the legislature from passing measures over the governor's veto. Stalwarts in complete control of the senate and might force measures over the governor's head, without definite organization in the assembly, it was declared.

Bills introduced in the assembly include one by Assemblyman Grandin proposing to detach a part of the town of Commonweath, in Florence county, to create the separate town of Peace, and a number of measures for minor changes in various statutes.

Assemblyman Clark Perry offered a joint resolution providing for a special committee to hold hearings at Ashland on the fish and game laws, insofar as they apply to Lakes Winnebago, Koshong and their tributaries, the Fox and Wolf rivers. Mr. Clark failed in an effort to obtain immediate consideration.

Both houses convened at 10 o'clock when little business on their day's program.

Label Prison Goods
A bill requiring that all convict-made goods manufactured in Wisconsin be conspicuously labeled was introduced in the senate by Joseph Hirsch of Milwaukee.

Senator E. T. Ridgeway of Elkhorn introduced a bill which would permit cities to levy taxes or issue bonds for the purpose of acquiring public parks or memorials to soldiers, sailors and nurses of the world war.

The Carlisle joint resolution providing for a committee to investigate crowded conditions in the capitol with a view to constructing a state office building in Milwaukee was referred to the committee on state affairs when brought to a vote. Adjournment was taken by both houses until tomorrow morning.

Grape Juice from Agent

Joseph Gelinek, farmer living near Black River Falls, was found guilty by a jury in United States court Thursday morning of operating a still and selling moonshine liquor to Black River Falls men. The jury was out all night.

World war veteran and proprietor of a confectionery store at Hurley, Patsy Castagna was placed on trial Thursday morning on the charge of having in his possession a barrel of wine containing ten per cent alcohol. Castagna testified he bought the product for fermented grape juice and in support of this contention offered a letter and the bill for the juice from the company selling it. He said the juice was so unsatisfactory his customers would not drink it. He paid $65 for the barrel, which contained 47 gallons.

LAKE CARRIERS ASK REPEAL OF SEAMAN LAW BY CONGRESS

Declare Lake Lines Cannot Operate Profitably Under Lay's Provisions

DETROIT, Mich.—Proposals that congress be requested to repeal the seaman's law, insofar as it applies to Great Lakes vessels, and that a new form of grain bill of lading be adopted were before the convention of the lake carriers association here Thursday.

Opposition to the seaman's law was led by representatives of some of the largest lines on the lakes, who held that the act made vessel operation unprofitable.

The proposed change in bill of lading would relieve the carriers of loading and unloading charges. Various grain exchanges have lodged strenuous protests against this movement.

GAS RULING STIFLES COMPETITION CLAIMS MARYLAND COMPANY

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—A petition for a rehearing on the state gas hazards ruling of the Wisconsin industrial commission has been filed with that body by the Alexander Milburn company of Milwaukee, on allegations that under the present ruling competition with the alleged acetone combine is stifled. It is alleged that six companies, said to be interlocked, of which the Union Carbide and Carbon corporation of New York is said to be the chief, control letters patent which make it impossible for any other companies to operate under the Wisconsin rules without infringing on those patents.

However, he accepted the chairmanship of the board of directors of the company, an honorary position.

JOHN BRICKLER IS GUILTY FINDS JURY IN HIS CASE

Convicted of Making Stills in Hardware Store Without Government Permit

JUST how hard federal prohibition agents have to work on some cases was indicated in United States court here before Judge Landis today when Agent Carl Henning testified he pitched three tons of hay in the barn of Peter Harris farmer living near Necedah, before uncovering the jugs of moonshine liquor he sought.

Harris was tried Thursday morning on the charge of having a still, three barrels of raisin mash, and seven jugs of moonshine liquor in his possession, also with selling the product. Guy Wheelahan of Necedah, a telephone lineman, testified he bought five pints of liquor from Harris.

Harris admitted having a still and said he had been making liquor for his own use since 1919, but had not sold the product.

The jury in the case of John Brickler, Park Falls hardware merchant charged with making stills without a government permit, returned a verdict of guilty.

The case of Joseph Gelinek, Black River Falls farmer charged with operating a still and selling moonshine, went to the jury at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The jury was still out when court opened Thursday morning.

Charles Lum, Milton Junction section hand, was found guilty by a jury Wednesday afternoon of having in his possession and operating a still in his home. He was convicted on four counts.

John Brickler, who operates a small hardware store and repair shop at Park Falls, Price county, was tried on the charge of having made stills without having registered and paid a license for the privilege of engaging in this business.

The government introduced in evidence a copper boiler, a cover, dome and another copper cover with a hole through the top, as evidence taken from Brickler's shop indicating that he was engaged in the manufacture of stills. Defendants testified they were all materials he used in his repair work or which had been left over from his business.

Chief Prohibition Agent Simpson, or any of his deputies that he had manufactured stills, although each of the officers testified defendant had admitted he had. The case went to the jury at four o'clock.

Gelinek, Tried
The next case called was that against Joseph Gelinek, a farmer living near Black River Falls charged with having a still and a barrel of raisin mash and with selling liquor to Black River Falls men. Defendant admitted trying to make wine out of raisins and apples, but denied having a still or selling liquor.

Joseph Jerseth and Mike Gladatz of Black River Falls testified they bought moonshine of Gelinek and imbibed so much that on the way home their auto tipped over and was damaged. Jerseth said he paid $5 a quart for the drink and bought a gallon one time and two quarts on another occasion.

Gladatz Camanche, from the house next door, saw the man enter the Watkins home and rush out a few minutes later.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala.—The claim of Joseph Jones, of Merrimac, to hospital attaches here that he had "some bean" was born out Thursday when his story that he had been kicked on the head by a mule and that the animal was lying helpless with a broken leg was investigated and found to be true.

Jones said his way was blocked by a stray mule and he made a threatening gesture to frighten it away. He refused to stampede, however, meeting the assault with a well directed kick to the brow. The mule's leg was broken in two places and the animal had to be shot. Jones will recover.

U. S. SHIPS AIDING BRITAIN SAYS SENATOR

LANDIS TALKS AT AMERICAN LEGION MEET WEDNESDAY

Declares Congress Must Reverse
Situation Concerning Treatment of Disabled Soldiers.

SHELL-SHOCK MEN TURNED OVER TO STATE INSTITUTIONS

Tuberculosis Victims Receiving
Shoddy Treatment, He Says

Declaring it his duty to the members of the American Legion, Judge K. M. Landis, who is in the city conducting federal court, accepted the invitation of the local post of the legion to appear before them in a talk at the social session and meeting held at the Eagles hall Wednesday night.

Judge Landis was enthusiastically applauded as he entered the hall and was ushered to the rostrum by Stanley Gordon. After being introduced by Post Commander William Strehl, the judge rose and during the full half minute before he spoke, his presence commanded utter silence in the room.

"The public is in a state of lethargy as to its duty to world war veterans," declared Judge Landis in opening his address before the legion meeting. "I have heard legislators talk of economy, but when faced with conditions such as these it is the height of cheap vulgarity to talk of cost and economy. Congress must reverse the situation concerning the treatment of the men we put forward in the trenches during the war for our protection and save them the treatment which the richest man in the country could buy in case of sickness."

Relates Treatment

Judge Landis told of the treatment of individuals with whom he had come in contact in visiting the various hospitals where war veterans are being cared for. He related a particular instance where a discharged soldier, graced twice on the battlefield of France, and now suffering in the final stages of tuberculosis, had been partially cured for by insufficient allowance for compensation, through an error which was a long time in being corrected.

5,000 Shell-Shock Victims

In dealing further with the disabled soldiers in the United States, the judge declared that there were 5,000 soldiers who are victims of shell-shock in the country. "These men can be cured if placed in hospitals devised for the purpose," stated the judge, "but they cannot be expected to regain normal health when left in chronic insane asylums. Eighty per cent of these men have been turned over to the various state and county institutions for treatment," he declared.

"The tuberculosis cases are receiving the same shoddy treatment because our legislators in Washington are talking economy with the result that nothing is being done," he further declared. "The country is guilty for this treatment. I advocated a policy for the care of these men shortly after the war began in order to have places for them when the first shiploads of the wounded came back. I am not a member of congress, but I stand for protection to these men—I yearn for a little legislative authority to stand and protect them."

Must Take Action

In closing the judge said, "There is one sentiment that I want to leave with you. I have lived through one post-war period—the civil war—and I am now living through another. I have found that unless someone takes hold of this matter and sticks to it the war veterans will drop dead on the streets, abandoned by those for whom they fought. There is no one who can repay in cash, those men who are shot to pieces, whose shoulders are drooping, whose years are shortened, and who are dying, but there is one power and one force that can come forward to protect these men, and that is your organization. I cannot belong to your organization—but there is one thing you have got to let me do—you've got to let me work with you."

New Officers Elected

New officers for the year were elected at the business meeting held previous to the program of the evening. The La Crosse quartet sang several numbers, including "Blue Jeans," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," and Walter Goetzinger's latest dialect song, "Burr You See My Johnny Johnson," all of which were heartily received by the audience.

Following the regular program, the Gold Star Mothers served coffee and doughnuts in abundance. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Post commander, William Strehl; Dr. McCarver, vice commander; Reinhold Schultz, post adjutant; Louis Robinson, post finance officer; executive committee, Myron Locke, Argyle Scott, Thad Brindley and Stanley Gordon.

LIQUOR PERMITS MUST BE O. K'D BY DRY OFFICERS

Ruling of Kramer Designed to Correct Abuses in Selling Liquor

WASHINGTON.—To lessen the policy of abuse of liquor permits, Prohibition Commissioner Kramer directed Thursday that all applications for new permits renewal of old permits to sell liquor at wholesale or to use in the manufacture of alcoholic preparations, must be approved by state directors and supervising federal prohibition agents.

Regulations requiring similar approval of applications for permits for retail druggists also will be issued soon, Mr. Kramer announced. "It is important," the commissioner said, "that directors and supervising agents co-operate to the fullest possible extent in this matter as it is felt that by securing their joint recommendations on application for permits of this nature, the possibilities of issuing permits to persons who will abuse the privileges conferred thereby will be very appreciably reduced."

JAILED BY REQUEST

Penniless Defendant Financed By Court Attaches Until Granted
Haven in Cell.

JOHN MINZGHAR, Ashland, is in jail at his own request. Minzghar pleaded guilty before Judge Landis Wednesday to a charge of selling moonshine, although he denied the crime. He said he was willing to take what ever sentence Judge Landis would impose. Following his plea it developed that Minzghar was absolutely penniless. He had no counsel until Judge Landis appointed F. H. Hartwell to defend him.

District Attorney Wolfe and Marshal O'Connor, with Mr. Hartwell, the court was informed, had been buying Minzghar his meals and paying for his lodging since he came to La Crosse in answer to the summons to trial. He had no funds to return to Ashland to await the day of his sentence, and no authority could be found for the government to meet this expense. There was suggestion of a collection to finance Minzghar for the balance of the present term of court, but the man himself solved the problem.

"Send me to jail," he said. "The government pays the keep of prisoners."

So a commitment was issued, and Minzghar is now in a cell at the county jail. Minzghar is a laborer, supporting a family of five children, and without means except his wages which ceased when he came to answer the charge against him in court.

BORAH RESOLUTION FOR NAVAL HOLIDAY REPORTED TO SENATE

Committee Approves Plan for Reducing Navy Building by Three Great Powers

TURN DOWN PROPOSAL TO INCLUDE FRANCE AND ITALY

Believed Other Powers Would Follow Big Three

WASHINGTON.—Senator Borah's resolution proposing negotiations for reduction of naval building by the United States, Great Britain and Japan, was reported favorably Thursday by the senate foreign relations committee.

In lieu of the original proposal that the negotiations look to a reduction of five percent in future building for five years, the committee proposed that the negotiations provide for such reductions as can be agreed upon. No record vote was taken on the Borah resolution but that offered by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, proposing that the United States have an American representative participate with the disarmament commission of the league of nations, was defeated, 5 to 3, on a straight party alignment.

Chairman Lodge said it was impossible to say when the resolution could be brought before the senate, but he hoped it would be an early date. The committee finally decided to limit the proposed negotiations to the United States, Great Britain and Japan, voting down a proposal by Senator McBurney, republican, North Dakota, to extend it to include France and Italy. Sentiment of the committee was represented as being that the other nations would follow the lead of the three principal powers.

The committee struck out the preamble of the Borah resolution which declared that a Japanese official had said that Japan would not consent to naval reduction without action by the United States.

Another amendment was made to limit the negotiations to naval disarmament and exclude all consideration of military reduction.

BRITISH CHORUS GIRL IS WEDDED TO NEW YORKER

Peggy Marsh Comes to U. S. to File Suit for Share in Field Estate

NEW YORK.—The marriage of Peggy Marsh, English actress, to Albert L. Johnson, member of a prominent New York and Cleveland, Ohio, family at Greenwich, Conn., on January 17, became known here Thursday. The bride is confined in a sanitarium here where she recently underwent an operation for appendicitis. She came to this country a few weeks ago and announced she would institute legal proceedings to obtain part of the fortune of the late Henry Field, second of Chicago, on behalf of her four-year-old son, Henry Anthony Marsh.

Claims Part of Field Estate

CHICAGO.—Peggy Marsh a former chorus girl met Henry Field, grandson of Marshall Field, in London. After Henry Field's death in July 1917 she instituted suit in the superior court of Cook county for the construction of the Marshall Field will.

According to Peggy Marsh she had received from Henry Field at least $50,000 in cash and presents. He was further said to have signed an agreement to pay her $300,000.

A formal claim for this latter amount was late in 1919 in the probate court against Henry Field's estate. The claim was not contested by the Field family who let it be known that they recognized the child as the child of Henry Field.

The suit to construe the will of Marshall Field so as to give to the actress, son, a share in his great grandfather's millions was unsuccessful. But court decisions held the child heir to the $4,000,000 which Henry Field left when he died intestate.

The board Thursday questioned Lieuts. Kloor and Hinton, the other members of the expedition, regarding the balloon's equipment and the technical details of the flight.

Jones of Washington Charges
Agreement Between American Company and British Government

PLEGGED TO DO NOTHING TO INJURE BRITISH TRADE

Agreement Concluded in 1903
for Twenty-Year Period,
Declares Jones

WASHINGTON.—Charges that the International Merchant Marine company, an American shipping company, controlling the operation of forty vessels leased from the shipping board, is bound by an agreement entered into with the British government in 1903 to pursue "no policy injurious to the interests of the British mercantile marine or of British trade" were made here Thursday by Senator Jones of Washington.

Parts of the alleged agreement, entered into for twenty years, were read by Senator Jones before the annual convention of the International Merchant Marine association, in which the senator made sweeping charges of attempts by British interests, supported, he said, by certain American interests, to destroy the American merchant marine.

The agreement, he said, reserved the right of termination by the British government in event of the pursuance of any policy injurious to the British mercantile marine and left the final decision in case of any difference as to this agreement or any dispute arising thereunder, to the "Lord high chancellor of Great Britain." Provision is made for continuance of the agreement after the twenty year period "subject to notice of five years on either side."

As a result of this agreement, Senator Jones said the steamship lines owned by the International Merchant Marine company, as well as the leased shipping board vessels now under its control, are "actually operated in the interest of the British government and British trade, and subject to the terms of the contract."

Aiding Britain
In support of his charges that American interests were aiding the British, Senator Jones declared an agent of the shipping board in New York City, who, he said, was a former employee of the International Merchant Marine company, had opposed the establishment of an American shipping line between New York and England and admitted that his reason for doing so was that it would "injure business of British lines from New York."

"Whatever benefits the port of New York benefits British ship owners," said the senator. "A monopoly of export freight sent through the port of New York spells greater profits for these British owners. It follows then that the British shipping men are in accord with the eastern trunk line railway officials who seek to cancel the present equalization of export freight rates from central freight association territory to Gulf and South Atlantic ports."

NEW DEPARTMENT OF STATE PROPOSED IN MARKETING MEASURE

Freehoff Has Plan for Trade Commission to Handle Marketing Problems

SEEK TO BRING CITY MARKETS UNDER STATE MARKET BOARD

Bill Presented to Provide for Supervision

MADISON, Wis.—Municipal markets will be brought within the supervision of the state market commission, if the bill offered in the house on Thursday by Assemblyman C. M. Freehoff is enacted into law. This measure would give the state board complete control to supervise these markets as to the charges made for produce and as to the methods of caring for the produce.

"Municipal markets and co-operative companies can be made to be successful enterprises if carefully supervised," said Assemblyman Freehoff in explaining his bill. "These markets have come to stay. They should be properly supervised so as not to be an expense to the city."

A new market commission bill will come into the assembly within a few days from Assemblyman Wm. A. Freehoff, Waukesha County.

The first big project provided in the bill is the formation of a new state department. No name is provided though the cognomen "Wisconsin Trade Commission" has been suggested. The commission would take over both the present marketing division staff and that of the present dairy and food commission, with certain exceptions. Those refer to the strictly sanitary inspection division of the commission. They would be placed under the state board of health.

Six principal features would compose the work of the new department. The matters of unfair competition, profiteering, weights and measures, misbranding storage and standardization would characterize broadly its scope.

The work the division of markets is doing in connection with the farmers' cooperative marketing companies would be turned over for jurisdiction to the department of agriculture. The inspection of cheese factories and creameries part of the work of the dairy and food commission probably would be assigned to the agricultural department.

In discussing his proposed bill, Assemblyman Freehoff declared the time has come for a change in the grouping of activities of the division of markets, the state department of agriculture and the dairy and food commission.

When the commission was established through the efforts of Gov. W. D. Hoard, there was no marketing division and no agricultural department. Later, when these were established, legislators were loath to combine any two of them, though the overlapping and duplications, Mr. Freehoff says, were obvious.

THEATRICAL WORLD WATCHING MATINEE DANCANT EXPERIMENT INAUGURATED BY THE RIVOLI

THEATRICAL folk all over the northwest are watching La Crosse just now, because they are interested in the outcome of a brand-new experiment in the show world which is being tried out here.

The experiment is the Saturday "matinee dansant" which the Rivoli theater inaugurated last week. Managers heard about the show-dance at Minneapolis, and expressed unusual curiosity concerning it as an innovation in the world of the theater. If it succeeds in La Crosse there is little doubt that the idea will be taken up all over this section of the country.

And that it is in a fair way to succeed is indicated by the size and pleasure of the crowd which "opened the ball" at the Rivoli last week. The attendance was chiefly composed of high school and normal school students, special invitations having been sent to them because Saturday is a free day in their work, permitting them to take advantage of the matinee. Chaperons were in attendance, as well as other attendants to make sure that the dancers were well cared for. Some seventy-five couples tripped to the infectious music of the Ryeberstedt's orchestra in this first "matinee dansant," and the whole affair went so well that its continuation for some time at least is regarded as certain.

Indeed, the success was such that the Rivoli management is contemplating similar parties for an evening or two regularly each week so that patrons whose work will not permit them to attend the Saturday matinees may also enjoy the fun. It was found that the foyer and big T-lobby of the new theater afforded ample room and a very satisfactory dance floor—and of course the opportunity of dancing to the Ryeberstedt's brand of music was not least of the attractions. The orchestra was seated in the foyer, and was heard at it from 4 until 5:30 in the afternoon, displaying as much discrimination in their choice of dance music as in the musical settings for the "movies" for which they have acquired a reputation since their advent here.

"Home, Sweet Home" Barred—Incidentally, the "matinee dansant" has let the public in on one of the mysterious superstitions of the theater. The invariable orchestral custom of signaling the end of a party by playing "Home, Sweet Home" was the concluding number was not observed, and many of the dancers wondered why. Inquiry developed the fact that "Home, Sweet Home" is taboo in theaters. It is guaranteed to produce an extra-special brand of bad luck for the house in which it is played according to theatrical tradition of two generations, and even the demands of a theater dancing party will not induce a theatrical orchestra to play the luckless air.

So, when the "Matinee dansant" program comes to an end at the Rivoli there is no "Home, Sweet Home" to warn the dancers. The orchestra simply packs up and leaves.

"Even if I wanted that tune played in my house—which, believe me, I do not," said Manager P. T. Koppellberg in explaining the matter, "I couldn't hire the orchestra to play it. They'd quit first. And, anyhow, why should they? It isn't so essential to a dance that we should want to monkey with fate. I don't know why it is, but there is proof enough that 'Home, Sweet Home' is bad luck in a theater, and I don't want to take chances."

ANGELO LIGHT PLANT ENGINE INSTALLED AFTER TWO MISHAPS

SPARTA, Wis.—Considerable difficulty was experienced in getting the big fifty-horsepower engine and generator for the plant of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company to its destination at Angelo. One of the caterpillar tractors from Camp Robinson being used to help drag it, broke, and at the curve in the road by the state school, the engine slid into the ditch, where it remained a couple of days, before it was finally landed at Angelo.

On Wednesday the big fly wheel for the engine came, and two tractors were required to haul that to the plant. Most of the machinery has now arrived and been taken to Angelo, but it will be about six weeks before this can all be installed and normal lighting can again be restored. Until then, every one will have to conserve on light and power, and use these only on the schedule given out by the company.

A crew of men worked all night Sunday at the plant in Sparta, repairing the damage done by the fire of Sunday afternoon. The frame portion of the building containing the work rooms and the shafting and drive wheel from the water wheel was practically destroyed by the fire, and the belt connecting the drive

LET US REASON

(NOTE now, and let us reason together saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.—Isaiah 1: 18.)

Too Much Territory?

THE heavy guns of the prohibition enforcement service are reported in the news to have decreased that home manufacture of intoxicants is not only technically unlawful, but that it is to be stopped. This apparently reverses a decision reached some months ago whereby it was understood that there would be no "home brew" offensive so long as such beverages were not sold or transported.

Discussion of the change of front must accept the premise that "home brew" is in fact illegal, but as to the wisdom or the possibility of forcing this admitted premise to its ultimate logical and theoretical conclusion there may be two minds. To apprehend all the home brewers would not only be expensive, but highly difficult. One fauces the prohibition agents on whom the job will fall must have heaved great sighs at the size of the job which their superiors so easily blocked out for the subordinates to perform. And if the attempt is made there can be little doubt that many will escape who are equally guilty with those the dry officers happen to catch and fine, with the natural result that home brewing will not be stopped. The generality of persons so inclined will, fancy themselves smart enough to fool the officers even if so-and-so did happen to get tripped. The risk may even add a certain zest to the enterprise which it would otherwise lack.

Human nature being what it is and home brew what it generally is, there is room for speculation as to whether or not the objective of stopping the manufacture of home-made drink might not be quicker and more effectively reached by letting the home-brewers have their heads until they get tired of it. Many a man has made a few batches for experiment, but it is also true that a large percentage of these shortly decided the result was not worth the trouble. To forbid it will, in many cases at least, add a flavor to the product without which it would probably soon cease to be very generally manufactured.

It is not from any wish to nullify the Volstead law or foster its violation, but merely because we believe this particular project to be inherently impossible of attainment that we offer this comment. We believe that in the interest of general observance of law, construction of laws ought never to be pushed beyond the bounds of enforceability. It is a bad example for other kinds of law-breakers for the government to bite off more than it can chew in the matter of enforcing prohibition.

The Fame Handicap

THE self-made man without schooling who attains great distinction is one of our cherished American institutions. He is a national product that makes us justly proud of America and yet he occurs only in the ratio of six to a million of population.

To one of him there are 978 men who have gained distinction with the aid of college education, according to figures compiled by an investigator.

This investigator found that without schooling only thirty-one out of five millions attained distinction.

With elementary schooling only 808 out of 33,000,000 attained distinction.

With high school education 1245 out of two millions attained distinction.

With college educations 5768 out of one million attained distinction.

While such exemplars as Lincoln are inspiring to our national pride, the boy who, like Lincoln, is without any schooling whatever is a long shot of 978 to 1 in the race for fame against the college boy.

We Have a Right to Ask

NEWS dispatches from Japan report a tone of hostility in the Japanese press because the United States, in correspondence over the death of Lieutenant Langdon at the hands of a Japanese sentry, should advert to the question of the right of Japan to have Vladivostok in occupation. This is a narrow and prejudiced view of the American position which doubtless springs from a well-defined consciousness of guilt. The Japanese editors know that the Mikado's government can present no shadow of justification for the occupation of the Siberian port and the hinterland, and that its answer when questioned must be either a confession of usurpation or a challenge to the United States to do something about it if we dare. Naturally it is offensive to Japan to have the uncomfortable question asked.

Nevertheless it seems that in an unprejudiced view of the case the American government is not exceeding its privileges in this avenue of its inquiry. An American officer is killed in a friendly port by a soldier of a third government which undertakes to patrol the streets of the town and establish regulations of its own to govern not only the inhabitants but American and other visitors. Surely, since the occupation and patrol resulted in the shooting of an American, it is not out of the way for the American government to inquire as to the antecedents, conduct and purpose of the Japanese military control.

The incident in itself is not such as to cause dangerous friction between the two governments. But it was directly caused by a condition which Japan has deliberately created in Siberia with the most tenuous excuse as part of her imperialistic expansion in the Orient. This is a matter which concerns not only this country but every other nation that has an interest in the open door and the restraint of dangerous military adventures in quest of aggrandizement. Sooner or later Japan was due to be called to account for her policy, and it is as well for her as for the rest of the world that it should be done before she was so far committed and entrenched in it that withdrawal would be embarrassing and difficult.

Wife Savers

A WIFE saver may be a pump in the kitchen, a washing machine, an electric churn, or anyone of the thousands of things which go to make farm life more worth living for the women of the farm. Just now the United States Department of Agriculture is tremendously interested in wife saving. So is every farm organization, county agent, farm journal and others who come in close contact with the rural side of American life.

Farm women are being urged to give more time to recreation, the community club, the village movie; they need more play and less work. So that they may have the right amount of each their fathers and husbands are being told a few things—that running water in the house saves multitudes of steps; machinery for washing clothes and churning butter prevents many an aching back; that farm houses can, and should, be as well equipped with labor-saving devices and modern conveniences as city homes.

Further, it is urged, and strongly, too, that farm women need, deserve, and should get plenty of afternoons and evenings "off," and annual vacations should come to them.

A wife saver is a life saver.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

A special meeting of the council will be held at the city hall this evening to act in the matter of making repairs on the crank shafts of the big pump at the pumping station. If it is decided to send the shafts away for repair La Crosse will be without fire protection for six or eight weeks as the two small pumps have not enough power to furnish the supply of water necessary.

Negotiations are on for the transfer of a piece of land at the corner of Rose and Logan streets from the Burlington railroad company and as soon as completed the Egan Manufacturing company will erect a new plant for manufacturing purposes.

That Postmaster General Hitchcock will either have to change his methods of economy or see the entire force of railway mail clerks throughout the country quit work is the statement made today by local mail clerks. Bitter feeling toward Hitchcock is entertained not only by clerks of South Dakota, which is the storm center of the war being waged by Hitchcock against the railway mail clerks in his attempt to economize in the postal department, but every clerk in the mail service who hold that they are being required to do the work of twice as many men as are employed. La Crosse clerks have refused to fill vacancies caused by striking clerks in South Dakota, saying they will quit their jobs first.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

A driver, team and load of ice belonging to John Wachter, broke through the ice today but all were recovered with the exception of one horse.

The chiefs of police all over the state are deeply interested in the bill introduced by Senator Miller which provides for biennial election. The bill as introduced provides that all the city officers who are not elective shall be appointed by the mayor, except the school board, and it is generally understood that this means the mayor shall appoint the police as in the old days.

The Milwaukee road is putting a new form of single plow on its engines which run over double tracks. It is in the shape of a crumple, breaking plow and by running up one track and down the other the snow is pushed to the outside of the track. With the old double plow the snow was thrown onto the opposite tracks which had already been cleaned, thereby causing a great deal of useless labor.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

There has been referred to the council committee on water for approval a plan to supply artesian well water to a large portion of the city. The plan as outlined by Alderman D. H. Palmer, who proposed it, consists of running pipes to the different streets from the well on King street and keeping the pipes filled with a supply of water which will be at the same temperature summer and winter. This system, besides giving the city pure water, would make use of the valuable artesian wells which were drilled some time ago near the city pumps.

General Superintendent J. R. Hastings and Assistant Superintendent D. Cunningham of the Burlington railway, arrived here from the south last night.

Abe Martin

"I used to allus give books at Christmas time, but nobuddy stays home long enough to read 'em any more," said Emmy Pash today. Pinky Kerr spent $15 on the qt. of today.

EBERHART COMPANY PUTS UP ICE FOR MILWAUKEE ROAD

The Eberhart coal company Tuesday morning began the work of filling the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway company's ice houses, according to announcement from the railway offices Wednesday.

It was said that the ice in the river froze to a thickness of eighteen to twenty inches during the low temperature of a few days ago.

A. J. SMITH, VIROQUA, DIES IN CALIFORNIA

VIROQUA, Wis.—From San Diego, California, comes the news of the passing of August J. Smith of this city, who, with his daughter, Fay, was spending the winter months there. Mr. Smith was one of the most prominent business men of Viroqua having conducted a hardware business here for years. Mr. Smith's death occurred a few hours after having suffered a paralytic stroke. The body will be brought to this city for interment.

"LISTEN LESTER"

During the long run of the big musical success, "Listen Lester," in New York, Tony Cort kept close tabs upon the various records made by this most successful of all his productions and some interesting figures were the result. One could quote figures for a week and not exhaust the details of records that were smashed. It ran for nearly a year without an interruption. In that time 153,821 saw the performances. It averaged over three quarters of a million dollars in New York alone. From October to August not a performance was missed and many special ones had to be put in to accommodate the demand. There were several people who attended over twenty-five performances during the metropolitan engagement, and one club liked it so well that they saw twelve performances of the musical comedy while it was at the Knickerbocker theater. This is one of the longest runs ever known for a musical comedy in New York, and when it is considered that eight weeks of that time were during the hottest weather New York had known in many years, the record is all the more astonishing.

"Listen Lester" will be presented at the La Crosse theater with Mr. Fred Heider, who had much to do with the success of the play during its long run on Broadway, in his original role of the hotel clerk and the complete New York Knickerbocker theater production intact under the personal direction of the producer, Mr. Cort, comes for one performance Wednesday, Jan. 26.

HOME WORK PLAY

THE "PRINCE"

Mr. Jackson Wasn't Here to a Throne, But He Was a "Prince"

At Mr. Jackson's question Slim looked up from the floor in surprise. "What did you say, sir?" he asked. "I said, is Sam Stevens' story of the fight the whole truth?"

Slim felt a sinking sensation within. He had been asked to verify the story of a boy who was his bitterest enemy, the boy who had humiliated him before nearly the whole school. If he did not verify it, it meant that he would implicate himself further in the affair and would lay the blame for the whole thing at his own door. And if he said the story was the whole truth he would be lying. Slim, you remember, had his good points, and if there was anything he disliked it was a black lie.

"It is not, sir," he replied, straightening from his slumped position in his chair.

"Just as I suspected," said Mr. Jackson leaning back in his chair and stroking his chin. "Just as I suspected." And then to the astonishment of the two boys he added: "But I'm not going to ask you to tell the whole truth—I think I can guess that pretty well."

Whereupon he urged the two boys, the two who thought themselves the bitterest of enemies, to shake hands and make up.

"Will you promise me," Mr. Jackson said to Slim Perkins as he and Sam Stevens were preparing to leave the principal's office, "to never indulge in such practical jokes as you played on friend Sam, here, while you are a student in Victor High School?"

"I promise," Slim's hand shot out and Mr. Jackson grasped it firmly. A few moments later Slim and Sam were walking down the corridor together toward their lockers. Their faces, which bore numerous spots of black and blue—to help them remember their tussle—were now much brighter and clearer than when Mr. Jackson had approached them to ask that they go to his office for a conference.

Slim was speaking. "And say, Sam," he said, "ain't Mr. Jackson a dandy fellow—a real prince?"

The End.

WHO IS HE?

An English poet. Writer of "Beppe." His body was donated a resting-place in Westminster Abbey.

INDOOR MAGIC

Twenty-one cards are taken from a deck and are offered for shuffling. They are then handed back to you and you proceed to deal out the cards in three piles, one-card to each pile in turn, seven cards to the pile. While doing this have someone mentally select a card from one of the twenty-one and ask him to observe carefully into which pile it falls while you are dealing them out.

When the three piles have been made ask the person to indicate into which pile the card was placed. Put this stack between the other two—one of the others on each side, that is. Then, without shuffling the cards again deal them out as before, into three piles. Once more ask that the pile into which the chosen card has fallen be indicated. This pack is then placed between the other two as was done after the first dealing.

Without being shuffled they are dealt in the same manner for a third time, the chosen card once more being carefully noted. When the cards have been piled into the three stacks request that the pack into which the chosen card has this time fallen be pointed out. This done, you will then know just what the chosen card is, for you must note carefully the fourth card of each pack when dealing the cards for the third time. The fourth card of the indicated pile will be the chosen one. A very mystifying trick.

JEFFERSON TOBACCO COMPANY BUILDING SPARTA WAREHOUSE

Hundred and Thirty-four are Now Employed in Sizing Department

WAUKON GIRL ARRIVES TO FILL COUNTY NURSE POSITION

Funeral of Mrs. Mary Redding Who Died in Elgin Held

SPARTA, Wis.—The Jefferson Tobacco company have started work on a big scale in their large new warehouse, recently completed on the Newton property on East Oak street, which the company purchased last winter. The large residence on the property has been remodeled and converted into an up to date office building and the big new addition joins this building at the rear. It is three stories high, with a large floor space, and at present 104 women are employed there in sizing the tobacco and about thirty men are employed by the day. This is a much larger force than ever employed before, because of previous lack of room. The new plant has every convenience for the comfort of the employees. Rest rooms, shower baths, a dining room, and other blessings, besides the Jeffersons furnish hot coffee for the workers. The remodeling work has been suspended for the present, at the request of the Madison firm, for whom the work was being done on a commission basis.

The tobacco market is down, but the local firm is buying at contract prices, just the same. There has been so much damp weather, in which it is easy to handle tobacco, that it is coming in in good shape, and the plant here will keep running full blast.

Red Cross Nurse Arrives

Some time ago, the county voted to have a Red Cross nurse whose headquarters should be at Sparta. Miss Hazel Sawyer has come to the city from Waukon, Iowa, to fill this position, and will begin her duties in the next few days. Miss Sawyer's office will be in the court house in the room formerly occupied by the Red Cross workers.

Things have been quiet along matrimonial lines in the office of the county clerk, only one couple having asked for a marriage license the past week. The contracting parties are Joseph P. O'Malley of Dorchester, Iowa, and Miss Loretta Connor of the town of Lincoln.

Mrs. Redding Buried

Mrs. Mary Redding, who died at Elgin, Ill., was brought to Sparta, and the remains conveyed to the Anglican church, where funeral services were held Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. E. E. North, pastor of the Methodist church of Sparta. She died at the home of her niece, Mrs. Osgood, with whom she had made her home for the past ten years. She was nearly ninety years of age. She was born in New York, but came to Wisconsin when she was 25 years of age and resided here until she went to Elgin to make her home.

Another niece, Mrs. Emma Stokes, accompanied the body to Sparta, and Neil Swedlow.

Mrs. Redding was the aunt of Paul Austin and M. J. Latham of this city. The three-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schoonmaker died Saturday from convulsions, at the home of his grandparents, Sam Nichols and wife, in Sparta. Funeral services were held at the Farmers' Valley church, Sunday afternoon, and burial in the Farmers' Valley cemetery.

LANGDON WILL LECTURE ON FREE MASONRY

On Friday evening Mr. John E. Langdon of this city will lecture to the members of Pioneer Lodge No. 23, F. & A. M., his subject being "The Modern Apprentice Degree." This is one of a series of lectures arranged for by the local Masonic lodge during 1921, and is for the purpose of giving to the members of this fast growing organization a proper conception of Ancient Craft Masonry. The entered apprentice degree is the first one conferred in this institution, and the one upon which the superstructure of masonry is built. Mr. Langdon is an ardent student of masonry, being a past grand senior warden of the grand lodge, and a past grand high priest of the grand chapter. His interpretation of the E. A. degree is said by masons to be in perfect harmony with the ancient landmarks of the craft, and a large attendance will no doubt be in evidence to hear him. There will also be musical numbers on the evening's program, and altogether it will be a gala day for free masonry in our city.

MAIL PLANE FROM TWIN CITIES IN CRASH AT MADISON

MADISON, Wis.—A government mail airplane flying between the Twin Cities and Chicago, crashed to the ground at the Dane county fair grounds here Wednesday. The pilot escaped without injury. The machine left Minneapolis about 10 o'clock in the morning and had difficulty because of a heavy gale. While over Madison trouble developed and in trying to land the machine got out of control and fell. Mail pouches were brought to the spot here and dispatched.

NEW YORK — Directors of the U. S. Goodrich company voted to set aside a $10,000,000 reserve to provide against a possible loss on material commitments and deferred decision on the May dividend on common stock.

RAGTIME OR NOTHING FOR TOM

BY ALLMAN

La Crosse Folks at University

Among the patrons and patronesses named by the prom committee for the junior promenade to be held in the state capitol on February 11 are the names of Mr. and Mrs. John E. McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bratton, John J. Esch, Maud E. Nepprud, Joseph D. Beck and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Barber.

Arthur Nelson has been elected Alpha Phi Delta, a new professional commerce fraternity, being organized at the university.

Melvin Pierce spent the past week-end with his parents at La Crosse. Walter Regal of La Crosse took a prominent part in the football track meet held in the gymnasium annex last Saturday which the sophomores won by a narrow margin. Regal placed in the high jump and broad jump.

The end of the track season this year is toward La Crosse of Topeka, who was discovered by Coach Jones in military competition at Camp Douglas. Armstrong attended the university a year ago but dropped out. At the end of the present semester he will be a sophomore and eligible to compete in inter-collegiate athletics if he is able to bring his scholastic work up to the required average in the final exams of the semester, which is doubtful in the mind of Coach Jones. Armstrong will be sure of a place on the regular track squad. In Saturday's meet he took first in the high jump, shot put and first hurdles and placed in the forty yard dash and broad jump, establishing a record as one of the best all-around performers in the conference. He made six feet in the high jump with no previous training this season.

A flag possessed by Ralph Tarnell, normal school graduate, has been given to the state historical museum. The flag was to have been placed in the cornerstone of the First Central building at Madison which was laid last Monday, but was given to the museum instead. Immell carried the flag on every American front during the war. It bears the names of the engagements through which it passed.

"The First Step in Making Your Will" is the name of a booklet written by W. E. Walker for the Central Wisconsin Trust company which has been distributing it on requests about the state as a part of the national thrift week campaign.

Roger Lueck of La Crosse is doing work on his master's degree at the university this year. He will receive his master's degree in chemistry at the end of the present school year. According to his present plans, Lueck intends to return to school for two years' more work which will lead to a doctor's degree in chemistry.

Coach Otto Endres' Madison High school basketball team has not lost a game to date, defeating Stoughton, Beloit and Lake Mills among other fives. George Lewis, who had coached Madison High school athletics for the past several years, is this year serving in the capacity of head basketball coach at Indiana university.

A new honorary scholastic organization was formed at the university during the past week. Its membership includes the name of George Bunger of La Crosse.

Ralph Scott nearly broke up the second annual varsity jamboree and masked ball which was held in Lathrop hall last Saturday night. The football hero appeared garbed in a blue curtain, a pair of shoes, stiff hat and a cigar to lead the grand march.

Examinations concluding the semester's work will start on Monday, January 31, and will continue through February 9. The last exams will be written just before the start of prom activities.

Lambert A. Hansen of Cashon is serving as steward at the Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity.

Volmer, all-conference basketball forward last year and the star of the Chicago championship aggregation this season, hails from the town of Alma on the Mississippi river. Volmer was a member of the Alma high school five before going to college. SENATE RESOLUTION ATTACKS MILITARY PROGRAM OF U. S.

Legislature Asked to Petition
Congress to Reduce Army and Navy Expenses

PROGRAM WOULD GREATLY INCREASE BURDEN OF TAXES

Militarism "Direct Incentive to War", Says Resolution

MADISON, Wis.—The national military program now pending before Congress was made the subject of a resolution attacking its necessity in the upper house by Senator Julius U. Donaldson, Neenah, Thursday. The resolution declares that such a military machine is "a direct incentive to war." It says that about $8,000,000,000 of federal taxes collected is for present, past or preparation for future wars.

Senator Donaldson's resolution follows the line of argument presented in the message of Governor Blaine. Governor Blaine in his message brought before the legislature the cost of the proposed military program of the nation and urged the legislators to take action against the move. His request was greeted with spontaneous applause on the part of the joint assembly, the only applause that broke into the speech at the time.

"The proposed national military and naval program contemplates an expenditure of $1,500,000,000 annually," Governor Blaine said. "Wisconsin's share of that burden is one-fourth or $375,000,000 each year. Her share would enable the state to build five hospitals each year."

"Whereas, the business of the country has advised Congress that it will be very difficult for business to meet the coming installment of taxes; and 'Whereas, the party now in charge of the legislative department pledged the people of this country at the last campaign that not one dollar should be appropriated from the treasury of the United States except when absolutely necessary to meet the unavoidable expenses of the government; and 'Whereas, there are now 13,500 American soldiers quartered in Europe on the German people, 7,000 in the Philippines, 1,800 in Porto Rico and 1,400 in China:

"Whereas, the present military program of Congress calls for a standing army of 175,000 men, 100,000 greater than before the world war:

"Whereas, by resolution of Congress our country has promised the Philippines independence:

"Whereas, an American army quartered abroad is a standing menace against our peace and national security:

"Whereas, the governor of Wisconsin in his message has called to the attention of the legislature of this state the alarming military and naval expenditures of the national government, which adds greatly to the tax burdens of the people of our state:

"Whereas it is generally believed, that a large military and naval establishment is a direct incentive to war with all its horrors of the killed and maimed besides great suffering of the people at home from lack of necessities of life:

"Whereas, at the present time our former enemies are humbled and unable to endanger our peace or security:

"Whereas, none but our allies in the recent war have any argument to threaten our peace and it is unthinkable that our former allies will turn upon our nation after we have saved them from destruction, and all the leading nations are so burdened with debt that they are unable to pay the interest on their loans from this country."

"Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, that the national government is hereby petitioned to reduce the military and naval expenditures of the government to the lowest possible level consistent with the national safety. That our government set an example of disarmament at once without waiting upon the action of any other nation, and having done so, it then propose to the other nations of the world a general plan for immediate disarmament of all nations."

"Finally we petition our government to immediately withdraw all our military forces from European and Asiatic countries."

OLBRICH TO ARGUE BADGER RATE CASE IN FEDERAL COURT

Will be Appointed Special Counsel is Word from State Capital

MADISON, Wis.—Michael B. Olbrich, of Madison, former deputy attorney general and now executive counsel to Governor John J. Blaine, will be appointed special counsel to assist in prosecuting the Wisconsin railroad rate case before the United States supreme court. Governor Blaine is expected to announce the appointment, which is understood to be satisfactory to Attorney General William J. Morgan, within a day or two.

A. Mitchell Palmer, United States attorney general, has signified his intention of filing a brief asking that the Wisconsin case be advanced on the supreme court's calendar so it probably will be heard next month. The case appealed to the supreme court is that of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad. The railroad operating in this state brought injunction proceedings in the federal court for the eastern district of Wisconsin, at Milwaukee, to enjoin the state from enforcing the Wisconsin two cent fare law, and to put the 3.6 cents a mile rate, established by the interstate commerce commission, in effect.

Judge Geiger, sitting with Judges Evans and Baker of the appellate court, granted the injunction, and the state, appealed. As deputy attorney general under Governor Blaine, Mr. Olbrich was connected with the earlier phases of the case, a fact that is understood to have influenced the governor in his selection.

TEX RICKARD ALONE TO PROMOTE BOUT; TWO MEN WITHDRAW

Rickard in Favor of Staging the Bout in Montreal on July 2. Report

NEW YORK—Withdrawal of two of the promoters of the $500,000 championship heavyweight boxing bout between Dempsey and Carpentier will not deter the third promoter, Tex Rickard, from staging the contest, he said today. He indicated he would immediately secure other promoters to take the place of William A. Brady and Charles E. Cochran and attempt to hold the fight in Canada.

After yesterday's denial that the bout had been called off because of the alleged failure to post forfeits, Brady announced last night that so far as he was concerned he was through, "because the contracts have not been mutually observed." He also said he was fully authorized to announce the formal withdrawal of Cochran, who is in England.

Brady's statement threw a bombshell into the boxing world. Close followers of the sport here generally agreed that the breaking up of the triumvirate of promoters presaged virtual abandonment of the plan to hold the contest in the United States. Rickard was reported to be in favor of staging the fight in Montreal on July 2. Cochran's reported offer to hold the fight in London was given serious consideration by many enthusiasts.

Rickard expressed surprise at the action of Brady and Cochran. He regarded their claim that the forfeits had not been posted in accordance with the strict letter of the contract as a purely technical objection.

New Tourney Record Made By Werner

Another tournament record was shattered in the events Wednesday of the Tri-state bowling tournament now going on at the Lotus alleys when O. Werner, of the Peerless Non-Skidders, Wisconsin, placed first in the singles with a total of 657. His average is 221.23.

Werner rolled 212, 214 and 231 in the three games of the singles event Wednesday. The high singles event was originally held by Bob Ritter with a total of 630. On the second day of the tournament, Volgel, of this city, broke the record set by Ritter, rolling 638, with an average of 212.

GREEN BAY SPORTS THIS WINTER ARE BEST ON RECORD

GREEN BAY, Wis.—This city is experiencing the greatest winter sports season on record. Unusual interest is being shown in all branches of athletics. Basketball, with the northern professionals and the two scholastic quintets on the floor, are getting quite a bit of attention.

There is a seven-team hockey league, composed of industrial teams who draw big crowds at their nightly games on the skating club rink. Bowling is more popular than ever. Ten leagues are running full blast and this city will send thirty five-man teams to the state tournament at Milwaukee.

Skiing and ice boating have a big hold on the winter outdoor sport followers, while some of the speed demons are trotting their horses over the Fox river.

And get more genuine chewing satisfaction, when you use this class of tobacco.

This is because the full, rich, real tobacco taste lasts so long, you don't need a fresh chew nearly as often.

And a small chew gives more real satisfaction than a big chew of the ordinary kind ever did.

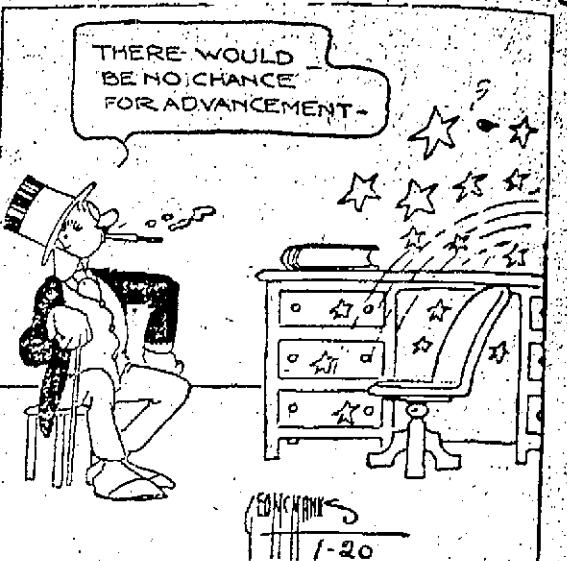

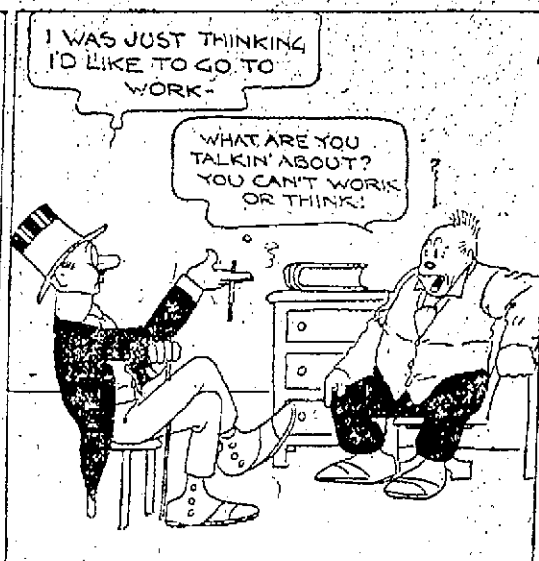

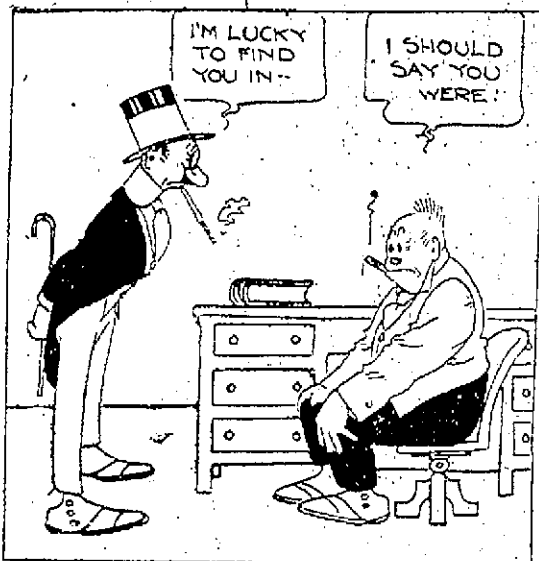

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

GOULD'S GREAT PLAY NETS HIM LEAD OVER SOUTAR AT RACQUETS

Open Court Champion Wins Three Out of Four Sets Played at Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Jay Gould, national and open court tennis champion, won three out of the four sets played today in the nine set challenge match for the national championship against Jack Soutar of Philadelphia Racquet club. The scores were 6-5, 6-2, 5-6, 6-1 (final). The remaining sets will be played on Friday.

Gould's position play was nearly perfect. His wonderful change of pace baffled Soutar throughout. It was Gould's deadly accuracy in shots to winning openings and flawless generalship that enabled him to get off to a flying start against the challenger.

Save in the third set, which he won, the breaks went against Soutar as consistently as they favored him in his match with "Punch" Paris last Saturday. But it was the steadiness of Gould's stroking that gave him the advantage. His soft cut shots to the forehand came off at weird angles, impossible for Soutar to return.

Painless Prize Fighting
There are still conflicting reports as to the scene of the Carpenter-Dempsey fight. It is now suggested that the match should be settled by cable, each champion remaining in his native city and telegraphing his punches.—The Passing Show (London).

WEAVER SAYS HE'S GOING BACK WITH THE WHITE HOSE

Declares He Has Contract and that He Will be Member of Team in the Spring

CHICAGO, Ill.—Regardless of his suspension from the Chicago American and his indictment by the Cook county grand jury for alleged conspiracy in the 1919 world's series, Buck Weaver, former White Sox third baseman, declared today he will be taken back.

An acquaintance of Weaver offered to bet $500 that he would be a member of the White Sox next season.

PUSH BALL IS ON

Y. M. C. A. Enters Team Under Direction of Art Renner; Normal School Team to Have Opposition During Carnival Here

There is going to be a series of push ball contests put on during the Winter Carnival here. The Normal push ball team will not go begging for opposition in this event during carnival week. In answer to agitation for the organization of a push ball team, the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday came through with a team that will meet all comers next week. It will be under the direction of Art Renner, whose training in the game of push ball will stand the team in good for an even break or better in the contests to be held at the carnival.

when baseball gossip started among spectators at the six-day bicycle races at the Coliseum.

"I'll prove to everybody that I am innocent," Weaver said to have declared. "I have a contract with the Sox and I will be a member of the team next season."

No one accepted the wager. It is believed the cases of the h-diced ball players will be called soon. The greater part of the pushball of Lower California is sterile and unproductive.

WHITESIDE GIVES GREAT PLAY HERE IN FINE COMPANY

"Master of Ballantrae" Scores Well Before Crowded House at Local Theater

Walker Whiteside, real dramatic artist, scored a triumph at the La Crosse theater Wednesday night in the presentation of Robert Louis Stevenson's stirring romance, "The Master of Ballantrae."

Although the story is weird and almost unheimlich at times and produces situations which make one gasp, it is particularly adapted to the talents of the star, and one was alternately thrilled and lulled by the wonderful voice and interpretive power of Mr. Whiteside. This is by far the best play in which Mr. Whiteside has been heard here; although there were persons in the audience who had seen him elsewhere who still insist that his interpretation of Richard Third is his finest dramatic achievement. However, Mr. Whiteside, in the role of the lovable rogue, was altogether satisfying last night, despite the fact that the recollection of the tragic end of the play still seems uppermost in one's mind.

The star had splendid support, each character being portrayed by one having special capabilities for the part. The play was rich and wonderful effects enhanced the finished tone of the production.

A crowded house greeted the play, and patrons of the La Crosse theatre are today telling their friends they enjoyed a real show Wednesday night.

NORTH SIDE PLANS MARCHING CLUB AND FLOAT FOR CARNIVAL

Progressive League to Take Active Part in Program; John Owen's Death Mourned

The North Side Progressive league decided last night to have a float in the sports carnival parade and also to organize a marching club to participate in the parade. The float will be a symbolical of the industries of the north side. The marching club will be one of the highest in the parade, according to plans of the promoters.

The following resolutions of condolence on the death of John Owen were adopted:

"Once more we must pause for the activities of our everyday life, to take note of the passing of one who, while among us was prominently identified with the business, social and religious affairs of this community."

"John Owen was born at Black River Falls, Wisconsin, on the 17th day of June A. D. 1857, and was at the time of his death some over 63 years of age. He died at his home in North La Crosse on the 11th day of January A. D. 1921. He came to the city of La Crosse in 1888 and was for some time connected with the lumber industry and until that industry ceased in this city. After the saw-milling days he took up other lines of business on his own account and for many years prior to his death he was actively engaged in the wholesale and retail ice business."

"Mr. Owen was prominently identified with the Caledonia Street Methodist Episcopal church, and when this organization a few years ago set out to remodel their place of worship he was very active in promoting the project and his was no small share in financing and carrying out the work."

"The Progressive league and other organizations which had for their object the promotion of the welfare of North La Crosse and his untimely death will be greatly missed. He was a fair, but worked within his strength, and he ceased from his labors. Many will miss his genial smile, his pleasant voice, but the memory of his kind words and deeds will last for many years."

"The world is made better by having such men as John Owen in it and it always suffers a distinct loss by their passing to the great beyond. This league feels that it has suffered a personal loss in his untimely death, therefore

"Be it resolved, that in the death of John Owen our city has suffered a distinct loss; the Progressive league a valuable and highly esteemed member; his church one of its main supports and his family a kind and loving husband and father, and be it further

"Resolved, that this memorial and resolutions be spread on our records, and be it further

"Resolved, that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased."

SPONGE BLUFFS THIEF

NEW YORK.—"Behave yourself!" commanded Miss Bertha A. Miller as she jabbed something shiny into the ribs of Michael Amio, who had broken into her apartment. Amio kept his hands up until the police came. The shiny thing was a silver spoon.

The Bottom Dog

"What position did you hold in your last place?" asked the merchant.

"I was a deer, sir."

"A deer? What's that?"

"Well, sir, you see, when the boss wanted anything done he would tell the cashier, the cashier would tell the bookkeeper, the bookkeeper would tell me."

"And what would happen then?"

"Well, sir, as I hadn't any one to tell it to, I'd do it."—Boston Transcript.
